

38, Shop Owner

Dress: Skunkfunk

Stockings: Fogal

Trenchcoat: Secondhand

Shoes: Yves

»What I particularly like about Leipzig is the collective experimental spirit. You can try something and fail without being judged for it. People here are simply open, interested and down-to-earth. Nevertheless, every now and again you are accused of doing or suggesting things that are typically 'West German', for example if I talk about strategic market ideas in terms of my business.«